

FACULTY OF FORENSIC & LEGAL MEDICINE

of the Royal College of Physicians of London

Registered Charity No 1119599

Academy of Medical Royal Colleges

- GMC Register - Defining Scope of Practice
- Shape of Training Steering Group

Independent Review of Deaths and Serious Incidents in Police Custody

Commissioning standards in police custody healthcare and forensic examination

Application for specialist status

Revalidation

Death certification

Council of RCP

Mental Health - reform of s1365 and s136

Photography in police custody

NICE: quality Standards on Domestic Violence and Abuse and Substance misuse

“Rape Clause” - implication for SARC examiners

Educational activities and examinations

BMA

- FFLM/BMA Working Party for HCPs who work with victims of torture
- Forensic Medicine Committee

Communications with members and others:

- Bulletin
- Website
- Social media
- MLA infographic
- Parliamentary
- NHS England
- Ministers
- IPCC
- Police and Crime Commissioners

New Code of practice for experts

Work on new “Blue Book”

The Faculty of Forensic & Legal Medicine of the Royal College of Physicians

Raising standards in forensic and legal medicine; protecting vulnerable people

Search website

Home

About Us

Join Us

News

Events

Resources

Revalidation

Consultations

E-Learning

Exams

Members Area

Library of FFLM Publications

The following publications have been identified as of interest to FFLM Fellows, Members, and Affiliates. The Registrar is always interested to hear of further publications that could be added to the library list. Many of the documents were produced by the former Education and Research Committee of the Association of Forensic Physicians (the forerunner of FFLM) and are generally of historical interest only. They will be revised by the FFLM Academic Committee as and when required.

All responses to Consultations can now be found on the "Consultations" tab.

If you cannot find the document you're looking for, it may be available to members only. Otherwise, please contact us at forensic.medicine@fflm.ac.uk.

To access the Journal, go to the home page and follow the link halfway down the page. You must be logged in for access.

Search Publications

? Guidance for use

Please use the search below to locate a publication. For optimal results please try to be as broad as possible with your search e.g. a keyword, date range and category selection will likely display very limited results.

Faculty of Forensic & Legal Medicine
Create Page @username

👍 Like 📡 Follow ➦ Share ⋮

Send Message ✎

- Home
- About
- Photos
- Events
- Likes
- Videos
- Posts
- Services
- Shop
- Notes
- Offers
- Reviews

Write something...

- Share a Photo or Video
- Advertise your Business
- Get Messages
- Create an Event
- Create an Offer
- Write a Note

Organisation

Page tips See all

- Add Page roles
Give someone an admin role on this Page so that you'll have help with managing it.
- Create a username for your Page that's easy to remember
A username helps people find and remember your Page.
- How to create effective posts
Short, visual posts created for the right audience are more successful.

TWEETS 1,628 FOLLOWING 1,589 FOLLOWERS 842 LIKES 315 MOMENTS 0

FFLM

@FFLMUK

FFLM is a charity set up to develop and maintain high standards of competence and professional integrity in forensic and legal medicine. Media enquiries welcome

UK
fflm.ac.uk
Joined February 2013

70 Photos and videos

Tweets Tweets & replies Media

You Retweeted

UKAFN @UKAFN · 13h

Please read and RT @UKAFN & @FFLMUK letter in the @thetimes re D. Angiolini independent review of deaths in #policecustody

Educational activities and examinations

BMA

- FFLM/BMA Working Party for HCPs who work with victims of torture
- Forensic Medicine Committee

Communications with members and others:

- Website
- Bulletin
- Social media
- MLA infographic
- Parliamentary
- NHS England
- Ministers
- IPCC
- Police and Crime Commissioners

New Code of practice for experts

Work on new “Blue Book”

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A MEDICO-LEGAL ADVISER

The role of a medico-legal adviser is a challenging one that combines experience of medicine with the application of legal principles. A medico-legal adviser must have the confidence and knowledge to assist and support doctors in the multiple arenas where a practitioner's professionalism is at risk of criticism

1 Assisting and advising doctors facing a wide range of medico-legal difficulties including:

- Investigations by registration bodies such as the General Medical Council
- Coroners' inquests and fatal accident inquiries
- Disciplinary processes
- Criminal investigations
- Complaints

2 Participate in the handling of clinical negligence claims and other legal challenges

- Quickly assimilate large volumes of complex clinical information
- Assess vulnerabilities in the defence of a matter
- Liaise closely with solicitors and independent experts
- Contribute to conferences with barristers and the rest of the defence team
- May also be present at subsequent trial or hearing to support and advise the doctor

3 Providing advice to doctors on medico-legal and ethical issues

- On the phone, in writing or in person
- Advising on clinical risk management
- Writing articles or other materials related to medical law and ethics
- Educational and training activities

4 Advocacy

- Written and oral
- Supporting and representing members in a variety of forums including local hearings involving issues such as clinical errors or performance concerns

Professional Characteristics

- Come from a wide range of clinical backgrounds
- Likely to have had at least five years of post-registration experience in addition to holding a relevant qualification in medical law
- Encouraged to sit the Membership of the Faculty of Forensic & Legal Medicine Parts 1 and 2 exams once sufficiently experienced
- Possess stamina, self-confidence and an eye for detail; be analytical with good communication and time management skills

FFLM annual conferences
Great, thanks for advising Michae...

Tessa Lewis 07/04/2017

Hi Michael
I suggest you add the link <https://fflm.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2016/08/A-day-in-the-life-of-a-Medico-legal-Adviser-Infographic-August-2016.pdf>

Educational activities and examinations

BMA

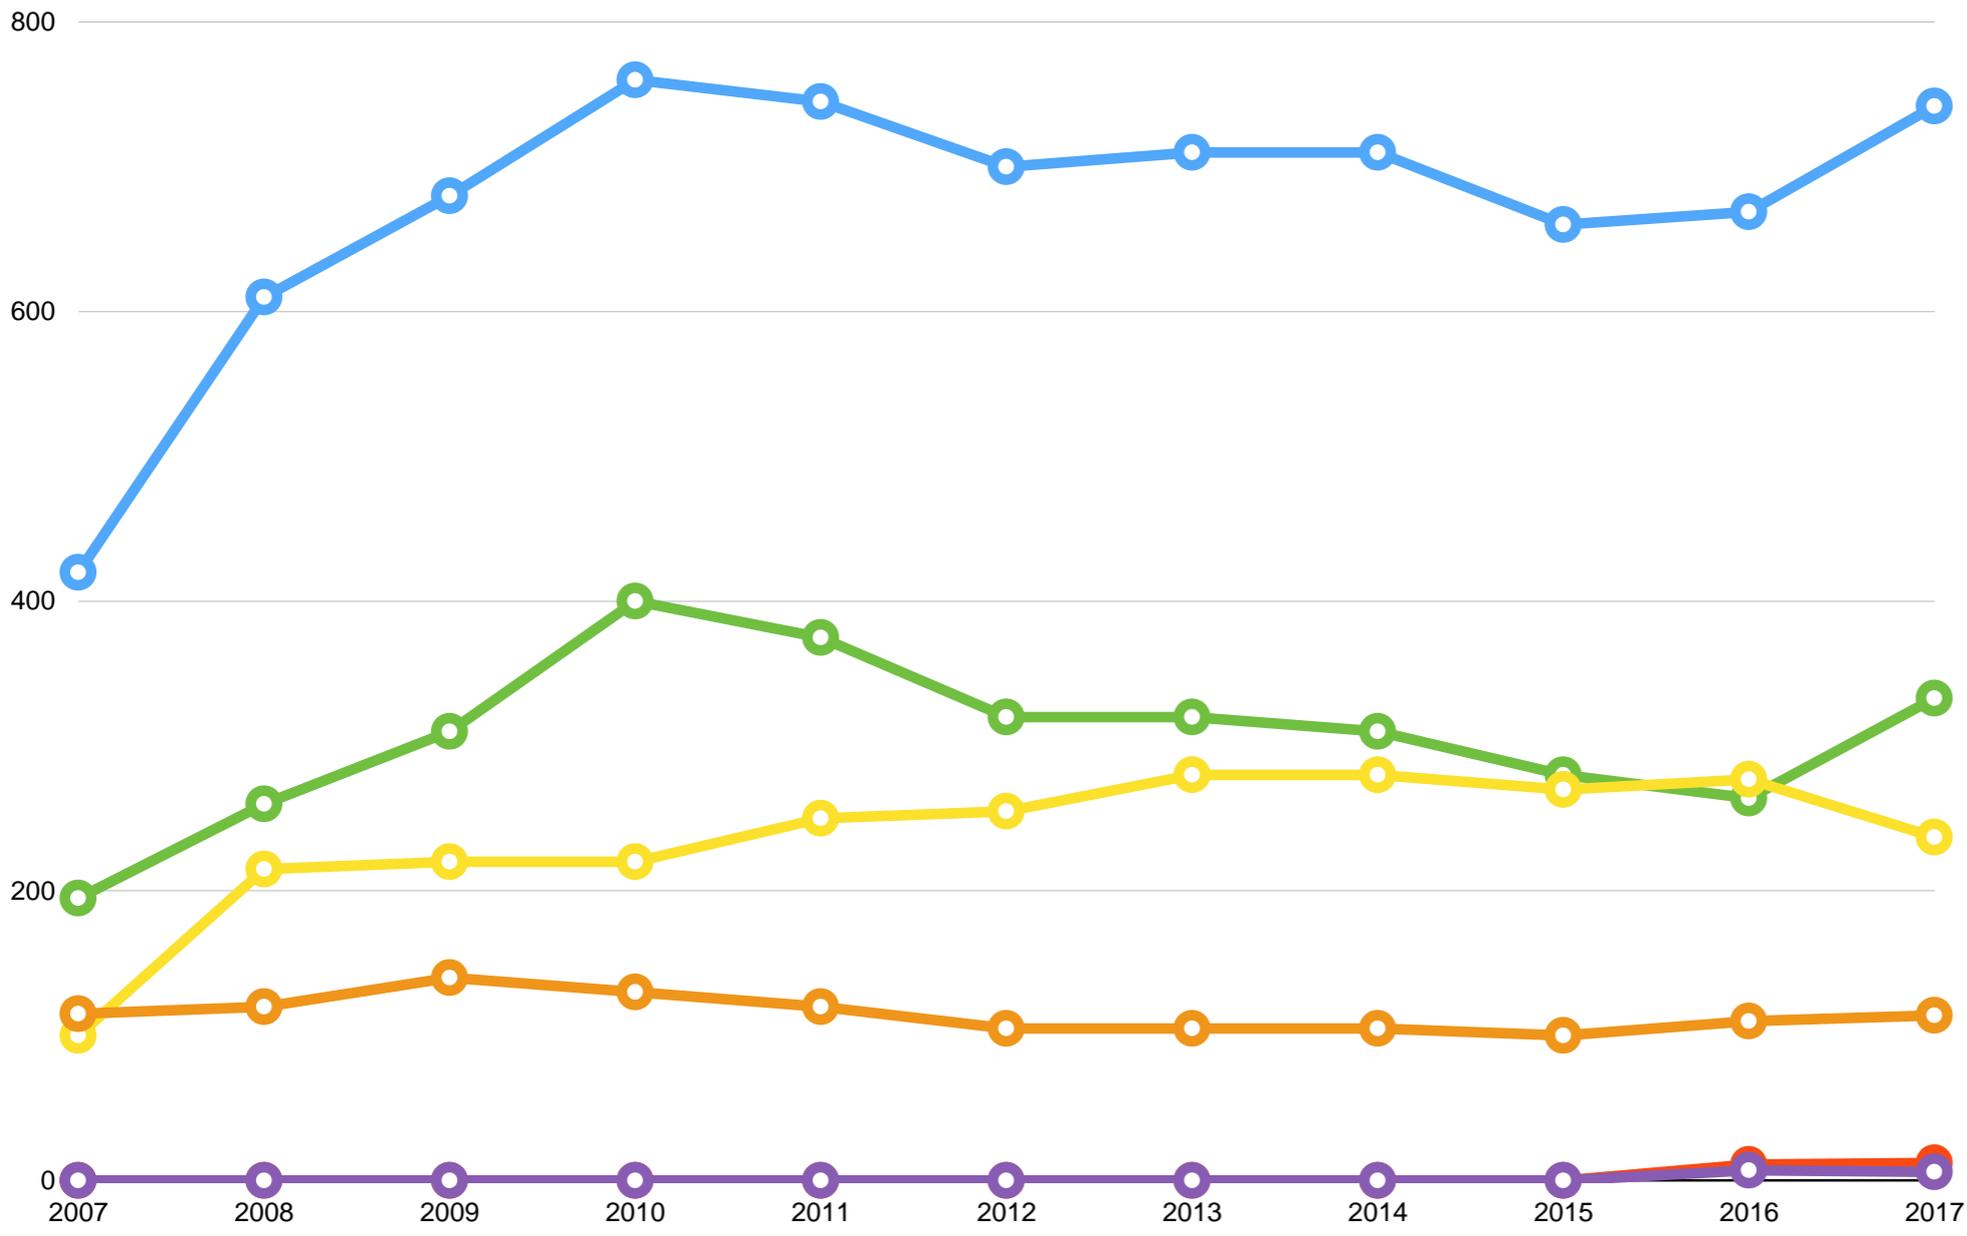

- FFLM/BMA Working Party for HCPs who work with victims of torture
- Forensic Medicine Committee

Communications with members and others:

- Bulletin
- Website
- Social media
- MLA infographic
- Parliamentary
- NHS England
- Ministers
- IPCC
- Police and Crime Commissioners

New Code of practice for experts

Work on new “Blue Book”

TOTALS

MEMBERS

AFFILIATES

FELLOWS

ASSOCIATES

AFFILIATES

FACULTY OF FORENSIC & LEGAL MEDICINE of the Royal College of Physicians of London

Registered Charity No 1119599

2.11 Affiliate Membership Criteria

Individuals who are ineligible for Membership of the Faculty may wish to Affiliate. Affiliating with the Faculty entitles the individual to the full range of academic, educational and other facilities available to full Members. The only distinction is that Affiliates do not have voting rights and are not able to use their affiliation as a designator.

Affiliation with the Faculty is open to those who:

2.11.1 are medically qualified, have a licence to practise, and are working or intending to work in Forensic and Legal Medicine, either full-time or part-time;

2.11.2 are working in a field that the Board determines is allied to Forensic and Legal Medicine, or to any new category approved by the Board. The individual need not be medically qualified but should be registered with an appropriate regulatory body or studying in an allied field.

Rationale - the proposed change to 2.11.1 brings applicants for affiliate and associate categories in line with requirements for medically qualified applicants for existing categories.

FACULTY OF FORENSIC & LEGAL MEDICINE of the Royal College of Physicians of London

Registered Charity No 1119599

